NOTABLE FEATURES, HISTORICAL SIGNIFICANCE AND DESCRIPTION OPEN TO PUBLIC NO               The Warren Mansion, located in the forests of Worcester County is a very unusual building. It is built on two or more levels and is totally covered with stucco. Apparently the work of Frank Lloyd Wright inspired the construction of this house. It is absolutely impossible to describe its appearance except that there are innumerable buttresses supporting the walls, reminiscent of the cypress trees in the local swamps. It seems like an outcropping of the earth around it.                         It was built by the father of the present mistress of the house around 1920. Unfortunately she would not allow photos, so I could only take them from the road.
